Medevac Air Ambulance

An air medical evacuation (also known as a medevac or medivac) is a method of private air transportation for patients who are too ill or injured to endure the rigors of commercial flights. We provide international medevac air ambulance and repatriation services for patients worldwide. Our global operations work around the clock to assist you 24/7. Our medevac charter team is highly experienced in handling international air ambulance flights. We can help you to get from A to B safely and as quickly as possible. Onboard medical teams can care for patients with trauma, burns, respiratory problems, multiple organ failure, and other life-threatening conditions. We operate a rapid response service that can arrange medevac flights and crew at a moment's notice.

AHS offers a very large capacity and greater cabin and baggage space than any other luxury private jet available on the charter market. With an infinite number of cabin configurations, the Airliner can accommodate small VIP groups and Heads of State or larger groups of over 400 passengers. You can charter one of Airbus or Boeing corporate jets, like the A320 or B-737, in a VIP configuration designed to fly in utmost comfort across the globe.

Cargo Charter

Transporting your goods requires specialist skills and in-depth knowledge of shipping guidelines. Benefit from our experience and expertise in finding the right aircraft charters for your various needs. From transporting cargo using our cargo charter service, to taking you to places where scheduled services cannot reach, such as remote locations, hostile terrains, or areas of disaster strikes, we are your trusted partner. Our in-depth knowledge of available operators along with a vast network of contacts ensures that we will fly you to your destination with the shortest notice and provide all relevant permits and documentation irrespective of logistical challenges.
